Everyone proceeded to walk around the outside of the bombed out church. Sure enough, they spotted a statue!

There are some statues over here, come this way everyone!

cool, two statues!

Our keys glow brighter when we are near the statue!

We need everyone for this to work!

Wow, orange!

Sure enough, the statues came to life with a bright orange glow!
But who were these two soldiers?

The German soldier picked up the football

Wer bist du?
Who are you?

We are from St Vincents! And we're trying to restore the peace emblem!

we were wondering if you could help us

We are on a journey of peace!

A journey of peace you say? Peace amongst your enemies is what we stand for

The football rolled towards Chris and Vincy's feet

Chris and Vincy started playing with the football together, laughing and having fun

Well would you look at that. They can't speak each other's language but they enjoy a game of football all the same!

Without hesitation, the soldiers produced the friendship key!

Peace broke out in WW1 through the common love of football. Take this key of friendship, as it will help you on...

SUDDENLY, a dog jumped through the air and siezed the friendship emblem in it's teeth!

YOINK!

An evil looking Chris and Vincy were triumphantly holding the friendship emblem!

WE GOT IT!!

Hey that guy's pretty handsome!

Evil Chris and Vincy??

Does that mean there are evil versions of all of us?

Why are evil versions of us trying to take the keys? We want to restore peace!

The peace emblem is already destroyed, why would you possibly want the keys??

Evil Chris projected the conflict emblem!

Conflict

Stupidity

Sadness

Sickness

Loneliness

Cowardliness

Injustice

Whilst the peace emblem isn't intact, the conflict emblem reigns supreme!

For every good that there is, there has to be an opposite evil to balance it out

The good and evil Chris' and Vincy's faced one another, much like the soldiers in the statue.

The soldiers hold an important message. Even though we are fighting for different sides, Lets respect eachother enough to get along. Thats what friendship, respect and peace is all about but... but...

fine. but im not happy about this.

Evil Chris & Vincy reluctantly pixelated away, leaving behind the friendship key...

This isn't the last of us!

We'll take this key, as friendship is important to us!!

WOOF!!

DID YOU KNOW?

‘All together now’ is a statue that captures the remarkable moment in December 1914 when enemy soldiers laid down their weapons and emerged from their trenches to shake hands, sing carols, exchange rations, and most famously, take part in a game of football.

The statue was erected in 2014 to commemorate 100 years since the famous event.

“160 million people have been killed worldwide in conflict since the truce which this statue commemorates. We cannot allow the next 100 years to be like the past 100 years, and I hope that the people who touch this statue will leave transformed and work for peace.”

Brave British and German soldiers of World War 1, we must ask you a question...

How can we find peace??

We can’t speak eachothers language yet we found peace and friendship through a common love of football. Peace is the same in every language.
Nobody wants to fight a war.

Will and Dr Patterson got their map out again and crossed off everywhere they had been.

wow, Looks like we only have 2 more keys to collect!

This place isn't too far from here, Abercrombie Square!

hehe, apple crumble square
